

Name: Jonathan Campbell

Class of works: I am writing in support of Class #3 (Unskippable DVD Advertising): Audiovisual works released on DVD that contain access control measures that interfere with the ability to control private performance, including the ability to skip promotional materials.

Summary:

Disc name: Next Stop Wonderland

I would like an exemption for copy protected DVD's because having to sit through the trailers EVERY time I watch my legally purchased "Next Stop Wonderland" DVD infringes on my right to personal freedom of choice. The DVD has an unskippable ad for the movie "Guinevere." It's a rather long preview, too, so it's very frustrating to be forced to watch it every time I put the DVD in.
