

jail breaking iOS products, or any other locked electronic device should be legal.

once a product is purchased and owned and the owner is aware and gives up all warr. rights to that product, the consumer should be able to manipulate (as long as the product isn't intend for life-saving needs) the product how he or she sees fit.

bobby june
213 290 2880
362 newport ave #a
long beach ca 90814