

Claude A Robinson III
1736 NE 17th ST
Fort Lauderdale, FL

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter applies to classes 4 and 5 :

I am currently in possession of an Android phone and it is essential to me, as a complete user experience that I gain root access so I can modify my phone to my liking.

Also, I am currently enrolled to get my BS of Science in Mobile Development so therefore this isn't just personal preference.

If I buy a device, in my opinion I should be able to decide what I want to do with it. I paid for it. So, why would you want to put a law in place to make it illegal to root my device?

If I wanted to buy a phone or tablet and donate it or throw it in the trash is that Illegal too?

Also, for development purposes I need Root access to my Device. Without Root access there is no modifying my device or trying to learn more about the internal structure of i.e. Android.

I really do hope that you do the right thing and let the end user, who paid for the device in question decide what they want to do with it.

Sincerely,
Claude A Robinson III