I am supporting the jailbreaking of smartphones/tablets. I am an academic who has owned a jailbreakable device for over 4 years, specifically all models of the iPhone and iPad. I appreciate jailbreaking the device because it allows me to tap into the full potentials of these amazing devices. There are several tweaks, that Apple does not authorize, that allow me to greatly speed up my productivity when using my phone/tablet. As a student, time management is everything and a jailbroken device helps significantly.
