

Mohamed A. El-Sayed, user of tablets and smartphones manufactured by Apple.

I am thinking to myself why I am taking the time from my busy day to write this note, and I realized that maybe because it is more important than my job please read till the end and you will know why.

So the office of copyright in very simple terms make sure that copyrighted materials does not get distributed illegally as an author of couple books I greatly appreciate that myself as illegal copies cut from my bottom line. So before I move any further I want to thank you for doing your job and giving us the sense of security and that our ideas thoughts and creations is protected because of you.

This will actually take us to why I am writing this note today ideas, thoughts and creations are all what we are asking for the freedom to think create without restriction while being respectful of others' creations. There are thousands of people in our community that have ideas and want to get them out to life and see them implemented to help others, hundred of guineas minds that are putting their energy to make this happen.

I want to conclude my note by saying the exemption you provided us a while back was a smart decision, a decision that helped the economy by getting more people productive, a decision that reduced crime I would be scared to think of what would these great minds be doing if they were not writing code, a decision that helped the declined creativity in our country and finally a decision that confirm that it is still really the land of the free.

Land of the free