

Tom Gwozdz
81 - 120 Centre St.
London Ontario
Canada
N6J 4X4
turul@execulink.com

Hi there. I would like to comment on the DMCA. Since I live in Canada, it doesn't apply to me, but I'm still puzzled as to how such a great, and free country such as the United States could endorse (is that the right word?) such a restrictive Act. Some of the articles in it even take away rights that were previously given by the original Copyright Act. I just think that it is a "Bad Thing".

As for the DeCSS issue, I find it scary that corporations could have that kind of control. After all, wasn't the whole cold war thing about control? And the fact that the MPAA wants to make DeCSS /illegal/? That's funny. But it's scary that they may actually succeed.