

Name: Sanjay Aiyagari

Class of works: I am writing in support of Class #3 (Unskippable DVD Advertising): Audiovisual works released on DVD that contain access control measures that interfere with the ability to control private performance, including the ability to skip promotional materials.

Summary:

Disc name: About a Boy

I have a DVD changer. I rent a bunch of DVDs and put them in the changer. The problem is, as I advance with the disc skip button, trying to see what disc in each slot, I come across this About A Boy DVD. All of a sudden the disc skip doesn't work any more. I have to wait for the promotional material to go by before I can even skip past and watch a different disc in my own player. All of a sudden, what should be a quick scan to see what I've loaded in the player becomes a long wait because I can't see what disc is in there until I let it go through the promotional material. I think this is ridiculous to control what I can and can't do to that level.