

Name: Michel Dalal

Class of works: I am writing in support of Class #3 (Unskippable DVD Advertising): Audiovisual works released on DVD that contain access control measures that interfere with the ability to control private performance, including the ability to skip promotional materials.

Summary:

Disc name: The Rookie (rented DVD)

It seems as though many Disney DVD's have anywhere from 5 to 10 minutes of "bonus" ads and trailers that I am forced to view prior to reaching the main menu. I just want to be able to skip them and watch the movie.
