

Please keep jailbreaking smartphones and tablets legal!

I've been able to greatly improve the functionality of my phone by installing jailbroken apps. They allow me to do things like view my calendar on my lockscreen or quickly turn on /off bluetooth, for instance.

Jailbreaking is necessary because Apple puts overly-strict rules on app developers and they can't give us programs that affect simple system functions officially. The phone must be jailbroken.

As I paid for the device, what I do with it should be my own business.

Please do not allow Apple to limit the potential of their own products!

thank you!
