

As an electronic modding hobbyist I stand by the right to Jailbreak my electronic devices including my smartphone, tablet, video game system, and P.C. Software like the Android OS is often updated by OEM like google however providers like Verizon hold these updates back to add their own unneeded tweaks and programs. These update are vital for the safety and security of our devices. Also as a hobbyist I believe in unlocking the full power of our devices, smartphone are often equipped with features that carriers lock out like wife-tethering. They are also loaded with unwanted programs that take up much need space, drain the battery and eat up software memory. On top of all this customers pay hundreds of dollars for these device and should be able to use them as we wish.
