

Re: Exemption to Prohibition on Circumvention of Copyright Protection Systems for Access Control Technologies

This exemption should definitely be extended. The DMCA has violated constitutionally protected private property rights.

My phone belongs to me. I purchased it--it is my property. It is not a rental. I have every right to alter the hardware and software on it in any way I please.

Sincerely,

Nick Providakis