

It is completely insane to make it illegal to root and/or jailbreak any electronic device! Apple is the 2nd most profitable company in the world but that's still not enough? If I purchase a device, it is mine. I own it, i paid taxes for it and i support whomever i wish - from Cydia to just a basic app developer. A law like this will cause unnecessary wasteful government spending to try to control and prosecute law abiding citizens especially considering our court systems can't handle the real criminals in the system now! It is nearly communistic to even have the idea of passing a law of this type. I might as well move to China so i can get my web browsing censored too! #hateapple
