

I am writing this letter in order to proclaim my desire to keep the jail breaking ability on IOS devices free.

I earned the money which bought the device outright, I did not lease it, and I am not renting it I own it outright. What I do with my device whether it be smashing it with a hammer were drilling a hole through it were blowing it up with dynamite is my choice and my choice alone.

The ability to run application programs on my device that are not necessarily written by Apple Computer should be my choice it's one of my God-given freedoms and pursuit of happiness is something we are promised in the Declaration of Independence.

KEEP the jail breaking of the iPhone legal and free for all those who spend their hard-earned cash to buy this wondrous device.

Signed,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "C.R. Stanley". The signature is written in a cursive, somewhat stylized font.