

Petition to Renew a Current Exemption Under 17 U.S.C. § 1201

8th Triennial Rulemaking

Please submit a separate petition for each current exemption for which renewal is sought.

NOTE: Use this form if you want to renew a current exemption without modification. If you are seeking to engage in activities not currently permitted by an existing exemption, including those that would require the expansion of a current exemption, you must submit a petition for a new exemption using the form available at <https://www.copyright.gov/1201/2021/new-petition.pdf>.

If you are seeking to expand a current exemption, we recommend that you submit both a petition to renew the current exemption without modification using this form, and, separately, a petition for a new exemption that identifies the current exemption, and addresses only those issues relevant to the proposed expansion of that exemption.

ITEM A. PETITIONERS AND CONTACT INFORMATION

Please identify the petitioners and provide a means to contact the petitioners and/or their representatives, if any. The “petitioner” is the individual or entity seeking renewal.

ITEM C. EXPLANATION OF NEED FOR RENEWAL

Provide a brief explanation summarizing the continuing need and justification for renewing the exemption. The Office anticipates that petitioners may provide a paragraph or two detailing this information, but there is no page limit. While it is permissible to attach supporting documentary evidence as exhibits to this petition, it is not necessary. Below is a hypothetical example of the kind of explanation that the Office would regard as sufficient to support renewal of the unlocking exemption. The Office notes, however, that explanations can take many forms and may differ significantly based on the individual making the declaration and the exemption at issue.

Software Freedom Conservancy ("Conservancy") is a not-for-profit charity that helps promote, improve, develop, and defend Free, Libre, and Open Source Software (FLOSS) projects. Conservancy provides a non-profit home and infrastructure for FLOSS projects. This allows FLOSS developers to focus on what they do best — writing and improving FLOSS for the general public — while Conservancy takes care of the projects' needs that do not relate directly to software development and documentation.

Conservancy represents several member projects used widely in Smart TVs, and advocated for this exemption during the last rulemaking process. Conservancy is well aware of the issues involved in this exemption, and the historical & ongoing need for the exemption. Through Conservancy's work and familiarity with its member projects, we understand the needs of this exemption continue, and have no reason to believe any of those needs will cease during or after the current triennial period. As in 2015 and before, consumers continue to utilize these programs on increasingly widespread Smart TV platforms, and these unlocking exemptions remain necessary for all the reasons given in the last rulemaking process.

As was the case in the previous rulemaking, the majority of Smart TV platforms ship to the consumer in "locked" formats, which prevent users from loading third-party software to enable interoperability. Conservancy is not aware of any pending changes to this industry practice. As a result, the harms that this exemption mitigates are still present in this class of devices. We have reviewed the policies and product offerings of major Smart TV manufacturers (Sony, LG, Samsung, etc.) and they are substantially the same as those examined during the earlier rulemaking process. They continue to pose the same problems discussed in Conservancy's 2015-2016 petition, and remain an unviable alternative to the unlocking exemption for substantially the same reasons. Additionally, current consumer interests show an active and ongoing need for unlocking, and consumer communities referenced in the last petition remain active. See, e.g. SamyGO, a community for custom Samsung TV firmware, at <http://forum.samygo.tv/> (last accessed July 21, 2020). As current policies and problems remain largely the same as those raised in the prior rulemaking, and users express continuing interest in unlocking their Smart TV devices, this exemption should be renewed.

ITEM D. DECLARATION AND SIGNATURE

The declaration is a sworn statement made under penalty of perjury, and must be signed by one of the petitioners named above.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the following is true and correct:

1. Based on my own personal knowledge and experience, I have a good faith belief that but for the above-selected exemption's continuation during the next triennial period (October 2021 – October 2024), technological measures controlling access to relevant copyrighted works are likely to diminish the ability of relevant users to make noninfringing uses of these works, and such users are likely to rely upon the above-selected exemption during the next triennial period.
2. To the best of my knowledge, there has not been any material change in the facts, law, or other circumstances set forth in the prior rulemaking record (available at <https://www.copyright.gov/1201/2018>) that originally demonstrated the need for the above-selected exemption, such that renewal of the exemption would not be justified.
3. To the best of my knowledge, the explanation provided in Item C above is true and correct, and supports the above statements.

Name/Organization:

If the petitioner is an entity, this declaration must be signed by an individual at the organization having appropriate personal knowledge.
