

To whom it may concern:

I am writing because an issue has come into the light about how I play my dvd's which that I legally own. How I play movies, the courts but rather the consumer should, not decide which I own. I have Linux, an alternative to Microsoft's operating system and I like playing my dvd's on Linux or any other way I choose. I believe that the consumer has the right to do this under the fair use policy. With in the next few years many more issues similar to this one will be brought up, and we have to do the right thing in the beginning. For dvds to catch on like VHS you will have to allow people to play them any which way they choose to do so.

I hope that you will do the right thing in resolving this matter.
