- Email Records
- Focus on Copyright Information

The screenshot displays the homepage of the U.S. Copyright Office Public Records System - Pilot. The header includes the 'Copyright | Public Records System' logo and navigation links for 'Home', 'Recent Records', 'Recent Searches', 'Name Directory', and 'Help'. A central search box prompts users with 'What would you like to search?' and includes a 'Keyword' input field, a 'Search' button, and a link to 'Advanced Search'. Below the search box, a 'What's new?' section provides an overview of the CPRS pilot program, noting its parallel operation with the Copyright Public Catalog and its enhanced search capabilities. The 'Other resources' section features three cards: 'Records Research and Certifications' (with a gold seal image), 'Historical Public Records' (with a bookshelf image), and 'Virtual Card Catalog' (with an American flag and seal image).

What's new?

This Copyright Public Records System (CPRS) is a pilot that will run in parallel with the Copyright Public Catalog located at <https://cocatalog.loc.gov>. The CPRS contains the same information from 1978-present that appears in the official Copyright Public Catalog, but it uses a more powerful search engine, provides easy filtering capability, and follows user-centered design principles in line with the Enterprise Copyright System.

Other resources

Records Research and Certifications

Request official copies of records, certificates, search reports, and deposits.

Historical Public Records

Learn more about our efforts to secure and preserve historical records through digitization and to make these records available online in an easily searchable format.

Virtual Card Catalog

The Virtual Card Catalog Proof of Concept contains over 41.5 million scanned card images from the U.S. Copyright Card Catalog, which provides an index to copyright registrations and other U.S. Copyright Office records from 1870 through 1977.

Overlaid on the search results is a feedback survey modal. The modal has a title "We want your feedback!" and a close button. It features a large blue information icon and the text "Help us improve the system by taking part in a short two-minute survey." At the bottom of the modal are "Close" and "Begin" buttons.

On the right side of the interface, there are several filter sections:

- Filter by date: Includes a "Sample input text" dropdown, "Start Date" and "End Date" text input fields, and two "Button" buttons.
- Filter results: Includes a "Collapse all" button and a "Clear" button.
- Record Type: A table showing the count of records for different types:

Record Type	Count
<input type="checkbox"/> Registration	20,000
<input type="checkbox"/> Published	8,000
<input type="checkbox"/> Unpublished	8,000
<input type="checkbox"/> Recordation	12,000

NEW PUBLIC RECORD SYSTEM

Feedback Survey

The screenshot shows a search results page for a public record system. It features four search results, each with a checkbox, a 'Full Title' link, and various metadata fields like 'Document Number', 'Date of Recordation', and 'Party 1/2'. A 'Save' button is present for each result. Below the results is a pagination control showing 'Rows per page: Select' and a 'Go to page' field. A feedback survey is overlaid on the bottom half of the page, asking 'How relevant are these search results?' with five radio button options: 'Not at all', 'Somewhat relevant', 'Fairly relevant', 'Mostly relevant', and 'Extremely relevant'. On the right side, there is a 'Recordation Document Type' list with checkboxes and counts for categories like 'Text', 'Serials', 'Computer Files', 'Visual Material', 'Assignment', 'Mortgage/Security Agreement', 'DMCA Filing', and 'Other'. The footer contains navigation links (Menu, Resources, Contact) and copyright information for the U.S. Copyright Office.
