

Arthur L. Workman - Copy Rights comments letter

I think the basic registration fee of $65 dollars is a way bit too much and should be lowered to a more comfortable amount of about $25-$35 dollars, somewhere between those figures would be fine. Because if the works aren't works for hire that means people like myself are busily trying to land themselves into our dreams. And unfortunate for many of us it's taking a lot longer for us to achieve this dream. Now I'm not sure about your other services but one service I think would really benefit people including myself is maybe if you could for example: allow a service where people like myself who send in movie scripts or novels & other items to be copy written could send them on-line example down load these items through your web site like how we're doing with this letter of comments. And then send in our financial payments whether check or money order via snail mail. This way it saves people like myself time, the effort of saving all that excessive printer paper for printing our items and then all the excessive money spent at the post office. That's about all I can think about for now.
