

The change in the US copyright fees will greatly affect me. As a freelance photographer, I am already struggling to maintain income due to the recession. If you raise the fees, I am stuck paying more money that I don't have. The higher fees would cause me to stop registering my work, or at least being very selective of what I do and don't register, which is tricky. Please reconsider the copyright fee increase.

-Amy Opoka