Dear Copyright Office,

I am an emerging photographer in New York City. I register my photographs with The Copyright Office every 45 days. More and more people are stealing my pictures due to technology and the internet.

The increased cost of the registration fee would have a negative impact on me and my business. Also, many more photographers will be less interested in registering because of the increased cost. The value and future of this country is in intellectual property. Please dont make it more expensive to register.

Sincerely,

David Paul Larson
