

I think it very unfair to levy a large increase in the copyright registration fees in a very difficult time for photographers who have to constantly do more just to keep up.