

Maria Pallante, Register of Copyright

Dear Ms. Pallante:

Copyright protection was deemed so important to creativity that it was provided for in the Constitution. There is, as you know, concern in the writing community about proposed changes in the “orphan” law that might expose copyright material to misappropriation. I hope you will use your influence to see that it does not happen.

Sincerely,

Jerome Richard