

Hello;

My name is Paul-Newell Reaves and I own a couple of websites.

One of these, defenestrationism.net , hosts two annual contests, with a total of five cash winners.

Where my site to lose contact with this author— for example he stopped checking a certain email address— there is major potential for works to be Orphaned on the internet, with no compensation to the hard-working writer who could use some extra dough.

Thank you for your time,
Paul-Newell Reaves