Hello. I have a beautiful professional photo that was taken when I was 5 years old and I have been unable to contact or track down the original photographer. I am a freelance artist and regularly use my own photographs in the projects that I use. It truly inhibits my artwork, compensation and creativity when I am unable to use orphaned photographs. I would love a waiver to sign during any professional photo shoots that would specify how to handled the photographs if they ever become orphaned. Thank you so much.
