To: Jule L. Sigall
Associate Register for Policy & International Affairs

Date: 03/04/2005
From: Carllene Marek

Comment:
I think the burden of being contacted should rest with the copyright holder whether initial filing or subsequent extensions. It should be their responsibility to provide a viable contact with the copyright office.

Should the copyright holder fail to do so then the material would automatically revert to public domain.