

Copyright office

In this day and age, where anyone can, with almost no effort find anyone else through the Internet, it is irresponsible to create the Orphan Law, allowing use of written material for the excuse that, "I couldn't find the writer."

As a member of the National Writers Union, I join with my fellow intellectual property owners to request in the strongest of terms that this movement be stopped. My words are my property and my livelihood.

Gordon Richisa