

It is already difficult to make a living as an artist, by enacting a law that removes my ability to earn a living will completely devalue my intellectual property and remove my ability to earn any form of an income.

The planned bill is absolutely not beneficial to actual artists who create all that our society will read, write, draw, paint, photograph design or hear in any form.

Instead of stripping our rights, perhaps enforce protections and enable the ability to register easier with the existing system and copyright can be searched.

Google seems to be able to do it.
